Why I Chose Ava Billings

I choose Ava Billing for her creative wolf paintings and her independent personality. Ava always walks into the classroom with a smile on her face ready to work. She is not your typical art student. She usually comes in from the farm, with her coat and work boots on. Over the past couple of years, Ava has grown as an artist really developing her own sense of style. Her unique shading and brush strokes really stand out in her work. Ava is a student who is teachable, she soaks everything up and takes positive criticism to always wanting to improve, yet still remains true to herself and her style.

Mini Watercolor Collection:

The tetrad black and white mini watercolors are created using a variety of techniques. Plants remind us to "Reflect, be down to earth, know when to show up, and that some of us just need the sun, and some just need love."
