Mansfield University, a member of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education, is committed to a policy of affirmative action, and assures an equal opportunity to all persons regardless of race, color, religion, handicap, ancestry, national origin, age, veteran status, or sex.
Francis M. Duffy, Ph.D.

Dr. Francis (Frank) Duffy is a distinguished educator and author, and a 1974 Mansfield graduate.

Duffy is a professor of Public Administration and coordinates a Master of Public Administration program at Gallaudet University in Washington, D.C. He has been at the university for 32 years and specializes in leadership for change in organizations, especially in school systems.

He is also the co-director of a national initiative to transform America’s school systems called “FutureMinds.” It is sponsored by the Association for Educational Communications and Technology. Duffy is the co-founder of an international movement to transform education called the “Voices of Vision Network.”

Duffy is the author of nine books, many articles, and numerous chapters on how to transform organizations.

He has a master’s and doctor of philosophy degrees in curriculum and supervision from the University of Pittsburgh and a second master’s degree in business administration from The Johns Hopkins University. Duffy also held an honorary postdoctoral faculty position in the Harvard University Graduate School of Education to study organizational learning. In 2002, he was awarded a one-year fellowship with the Institute for Educational Leadership’s Education Policy Fellowship Program.

He started his professional career as a special education teacher, working for Intermediate Unit 1 in Southwestern Pennsylvania where he was assigned to a high school special education class in Burgettstown.

Duffy’s life experience also includes serving as a member of the U.S. Army’s elite 5th Special Forces Group (the Green Berets), where he was also trained as an Army Ranger and a Special Forces Combat Diver.

He serves on the boards of directors for Mansfield University Foundation and the Association for Educational Communications and Technology’s Division for Systemic Change.

Duffy has been married to his wife Marcia (Arnold), also a 1974 Mansfield graduate, for 39 years. They have two adult children, a daughter-in-law, and four grandchildren.

Our History

Mansfield University dates to 1857 when the Mansfield Classical Seminary opened with 105 students. In 1862 the institution was designated a State Normal School for the training of teachers. Enrollment had grown to 400 by 1905. In 1927, Mansfield became the first school in Pennsylvania to be designated a State Teachers College, authorized by the State Board of Education to grant bachelor of science degrees in elementary and secondary education, music, and home economics. In 1960, the school became Mansfield State College, a multi-purpose institution offering a broad range of curricula. On July 1, 1983, Mansfield University came into being as a unit of the State System of Higher Education. Mansfield University has thirty-four active baccalaureate degree programs, six associate degree programs, and six master’s programs, with a fall 2013 enrollment of 2,717 undergraduates and 253 graduate students, for a total enrollment of 2,970 students.
The Outstanding Senior Award

The Outstanding Senior Award is presented annually at Commencement to a senior who has brought recognition to himself, or herself, and to Mansfield University. The recipient is chosen by members of a faculty-student Award Selection Committee who review nominations from the various academic departments. To be nominated, the student must be a graduating senior of the current academic year, have an academic achievement of at least a 3.0 quality point average, and have shown exemplary leadership and service to Mansfield University/Community.

This year’s Outstanding Senior Award nominees are:

The Honors Program at Mansfield University is a 24-credit, multi-disciplinary academic program featuring innovative course work, challenging subjects, and opportunities for cultural enrichment in the liberal arts. This program is designed for students with a strong record of academic achievement and a desire for new learning experiences. It is open to undergraduates of all majors and designed to provide an intellectually stimulating experience for outstanding students. The Honors Program enables students to explore subjects that interest them in greater depth than may be possible in traditional courses, and it also allows students to apply their knowledge across academic fields. It is the goal of the Honors Program to provide students with the knowledge, skills, and opportunities to achieve their full potential during their academic career at Mansfield University.

Honors students must maintain a 3.00 Q.P.A. in both their honors courses and their overall grade point average as well as make continual progress in completing the honors sequence of eight courses. The following individuals have successfully completed the Honors Program this year:

Mark Accettulla Oakmont, PA
Emily Smith Troy, PA

The Processional and Recessional

The processional and recessional are traditional parts of the Commencement ceremony that symbolize the relationship between faculty and students. In the processional, students process through the ranks of the faculty, giving faculty the opportunity to show their respect and congratulations to their students.

Please take your seat by 10:15 a.m. and remain seated throughout the processional, ceremony, and recessional, leaving all aisles clear. You are invited to meet your graduate near the entrance to the gymnasium once the recessional is completed.

Mansfield University faculty and staff members may present the diploma case to their graduating children or spouses.

Academic Attire

The traditional attire worn at Commencement exercises indicate the academic achievement of the individuals taking part in the ceremony. Its use, which originated at English and European universities during the twelfth and thirteenth centuries came to the United States in 1754 with the founding of Kings College (now Columbia University).

In 1895 the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, met at Columbia to draft a code to regulate the design of gowns and hoods for various degrees and to fix the colors indicating the various academic disciplines. This code has been adopted by most colleges and universities in the United States. It was revised in 1932 and again in 1959.

Gowns: The color as well as cut of the gowns varies. Although most doctoral gowns are black, some are the color of the university conferring the degree. The doctoral gown is trimmed in velvet with three two-inch bars on the sleeves and a five-inch border extending from the back of the neck down the two sides in front. Although usually black, the velvet may be of a color indicating the nature of the degree. Masters’ and Bachelors’ gowns have no such trim.

The level of degree held is indicated by the cut of the gown. Doctoral gowns have full sleeves which are round and open. Gowns worn by Bachelors have long pointed sleeves and those worn by Masters have long, closed fuller sleeves, which reach nearly to the wearer’s knees. The arm goes through a slit giving the appearance of short sleeves.

Hoods: The hood seems to have had a more practical origin. During the Middle Ages monks wore hoods to protect their tonsured heads in the winter and as a container to collect alms. It is the most significant part of academic attire. Its shape and size indicate the degree of the wearer. The color of the velvet border indicates the academic field. The lining represents the colors of the institution granting the degree. The Bachelor’s hood is three feet long and has a two-inch velvet border; the Master’s hood is three and one-half feet long and has a three inch border; and the Doctor’s hood is four feet with a five inch border. The Mansfield University hood is lined with red and black stripes.

Traditional Colors: Representative colors that one often sees are:

Black ................................................................. Associates
Citron .................................................... Social Science, Social Work
White ............................................................. Arts and Letters
Gold ..................................... Science, Computer & Information Science
Pink ................................................................. Music
Light blue .................................................. Education
Apricot .................................................... Nursing
Drab .............................................................. Business Administration

Mortarboards: The mortarboard cap evolved from the skull cap worn by monks of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries. It is usually black. Tassels are worn over the left front quarter by degree holders; candidates wear the tassel over the right front quarter.

The Presidential Medallion: In the early 1980’s, a Mansfield State College Commencement Committee enlisted the expertise of two faculty members to design a presidential medallion and necklace in honor of the institution’s designation effective July 1, 1983 as Mansfield University. Mr. Thomas H. Loomis, a faculty member in the Art Department, designed and fashioned the metal portion of the medallion using the Pennsylvania State seal as a base. Mrs. Mary Lee Trowbridge, a faculty member in the Home Economics Department, designed the necklace in red velvet with black stitching. The gold color base of the medallion, together with the necklace highlighting the institutional colors of red and black, symbolize the proud traditions of the university.
Class of 2014 Gift Dedications

The graduating class of 2014 is proud to announce that money has been raised toward a class gift which will be dedicated to Mansfield University. The tradition of the class gift is long-standing. The gift is given by the students as a way of saying “thank you” to Mansfield University for the preparation they have received for their futures.

Parents, family and members of the Class of 2014 who contributed to the Class Gift are listed on the following pages with a message of thanks to those who helped and supported them while they were students. A special thanks is extended to those classmates who spent hours volunteering their time and service to this worthy cause.

Jeremy Tillinghast
We sit here being reminded of your dedicated and helpful personality that we have seen in you throughout the years. This trait, which for us is “just the way you are”, will be a huge asset for your future success. We are positive you will accomplish what you set out to achieve and know that you won’t forget your roots and all the experiences that have made you who you are. God Bless you as you go. We are happy and excited for what doors open up for you. Love Mom and Dad

Katie Sabol
You are an amazing, kind, talented, loving daughter. Four years of musical triumphs far outnumbered the dramas of college life which you handled with grace and dignity. Continued good luck at Maryland. Love from Mom and Dad

CONGRATULATIONS!!! Very proud of you. Best of luck at Glacier National Park! Uncle Bob

Kirstie Sweeney
Mom, Dad, Cora, Aaron & Hudson – thank you for never giving up on me. I couldn’t have done this without my amazing support system. I love you all.

Jessica Ryerson
Mom and Dad: Today is dedicated to you. I could have never made it this far without your continuous love, support and patience. From the bottom of my heart, thank you and I love you both so much.

Ashley Casey
Mom and Dad, after five long years my academic journey has come to an end. While you cannot be witnesses to one of my proudest moments, I want you to know that I will be thinking of you. Thank you for everything! Love, Lizzy

Will, Bo, and Sweet Jean, I would not be here without your unyielding love and support. I dedicate today to you. I love you more than money! Ashley

Ashley Hickok
Mom and Dad – Thank you for all your love and support throughout my journey to adulthood. I love you guys with all of my heart and don’t know where I would be without you! Love always, Choochi

Heather Bohlayer
Mom and Dad, I dedicate today to you. You have always believed in me and encouraged me. Thank you for all your love and support over the years. I don’t know where I would be without you. I love you, and I am so grateful we get to spend this day together. Love always, Heather Sue

Kaitlyn Bramble
Thank you Mom and Dad for all the love, support and encouragement through my education. I feel truly blessed to have the family that I do. My time at MU has brought me wonderful friends and great memories.

Lauren Boess
Mom, Dad, Melissa and Oma, Thank you for all the support you have given me on and off the field the past four years! I love you and wouldn’t have made it through without you! Ich liebe euch!

Dorene F. Akujobi
Kennedy, Sophia and Anthony, I dedicate today to you. The three of you make me a better, happier person and I could not have done this without you. I love you.

Mom and Dad, thank you for being amazing parents.

Joanne Babcock
Scott, Savannah, Michaela and Cooper – Thank you all for going on this two year adventure with me! It’s been a crazy couple of years, but you all made it easy for me to do what I had to do! I love you <3! ...So Anyway...

Messages from Students

Tara Karg
To my son, Braylon, this day is for you. I wouldn’t have, or been able to, do this without you. A huge thanks to Dan who also made this possible. I love you both.

MANSFIELD, HAIL!

Written in 1917.

Vigoroso.

Will George Butler, Mus. Doc.
Class of 1897

1. Old Mans-field, high up-on the eastern hill, Dear Mans-field, hail to thee!
2. The world is better for the beacon light Which thou hast shed abroad,
3. We never can forget the days we've spent With-in thy hallowed walls,
4. The vision that we caught beneath thy spell Has opened up the way

Thy loyal sons and daughters with a will Salute in melody.
Strong hearts are stronger for the testing fight That leads men up to God.
We'll learn sometime what all your lessons meant When larger duty calls,
To opportunity and serving well Up-on the King's highway.

We bring a laurel wreath of praise, And pledge our love thro' all the days;
In all the varied walks of life, In peaceful paths and stress of strife,
For every law and rule of thine Is made to fit our life's design.
We love the memory of thy ways, Strong lads and lasses fair as fays:

Our Alma Mater, dear, all hail to thee! Old Mans-field, hail to thee!
We find thy sons and daughters true to thee, Old Mans-field, hail to thee!
We'll consecrate our lives to Truth and thee, Old Mans-field, hail to thee!
Our Alma Mater, dear, all hail to thee, Old Mans-field, hail to thee!
