

My courses widget in D2L

As many of you have noticed, the My Courses Widget in D2L no longer stays collapsed when you collapse each term which makes it difficult to scroll down to the most recent terms. I suggest that you try the new “Select a Course” feature in the Minibar at the top of the page.

With this feature you can see all the courses that you have access to and you can search for a course by name or code. You can sort your courses by name or by last accessed. By clicking on the pushpin icon on the far right of the course name, you can “pin” that course to the top of the list. It will stay at the top until you unpin it. You can pin multiple courses. This allows you to have your current courses at the top for easier access.

The screenshot shows the D2L interface. On the left is the 'My Home' sidebar with the Mansfield University logo and 'My Settings'. The main content area is titled 'Select a course...' and features a search bar with the text 'Search for a course' and a magnifying glass icon. To the right of the search bar is a dropdown menu set to 'by Last Accessed'. Below these elements is a list of five courses, each with a pushpin icon on the right side. The first three courses have orange pushpins, indicating they are pinned, while the last two have grey pushpins, indicating they are not pinned.
